

Al Galgalim

Hadassah's Training Wheels Program 2010-2011

The Hadassah Al Galgalim program presents families with the opportunity to develop a sense of belonging and spiritual enrichment as they learn about Judaism.

Training Wheels, a Jewish education program for families with children between the ages of 2-5, is designed to help parents or grandparents and their young children learn how to celebrate Shabbat and the Jewish holidays in a hands-on, pressure-free, friendly environment. Training Wheels is a gateway for families to experience and explore the traditions, customs, and foods associated with Rosh Hashanah, Yom Kippur, Sukkot, Shabbat, Hanukkah, Tu B'Shevat, Purim, Passover, and Yom Ha'Atzmaut.

These 1 ½ hour sessions will be held monthly on Sundays, starting at 2pm. Registration is $80 for Hadassah members and $116 for non-members. Non-members will receive a one-year membership in Hadassah. We ask that each child is escorted by at least one parent/grandparent. If you register two children, please have two adults available to help them.

Upon registration, you will receive a welcome letter with the dates of our classes. Our first class will be held on August 29th, so register early, as space is limited.

Detach the registration form below and mail it with a check made payable to Hadassah to reserve your spot!
